To-Day's Cabinet Meeting Considering Diplomatic Appointments.

The President's Reception This Evening By Telegraph to the Post-Disputch.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 17.—Elaborate prepa ave been made for the rece White House this evening, when the President will combine three parties in one. It has been customcombine three parties in one. It has been custom-ary to set apart certain nights for the Diplomatic Corps, Judiciary and Congress, and the Army and Navy, respectively, but to-night all will meet at once. The President has dispensed with a long row of ladies to assist him in entertaining his guests, and his only aids will be Miss Cleveland and Mrs. Hoyt, his sisters. This is a pleasant innovation, and one that is destined to be popular at the future White House gatherings.

girls who watched the passing show, and enough ozone in the air to add a fresh springliness to the steps of the marching men. The Patrick's day parade has become such an institution in St. Louis that it is one of the regular features of the year. The Irish societies began to gather on Tweifth street about the site of the old Lucas Market. Shortly after 1 o'clock, as body after body of men came swinging into their place in the procession, preceded by bands playing Irish airs, the excisement increased, and the patriotic and religious spirit of the day filled every Celitic heart to overflowing.

A finer body of men has seldom paraded in St. Louis. There were over three thousand in s line, and the banners, wreaths, insignia and music joined in making the pageant one not easily forgotten. It was two o'clock when the procession started. First came the mounted police commanded by Captain Frangel, next the officers of the Parade Union in carriages. next. Grand Marshal Jeremiah Sheehan and his aides, Messrs. McDonough, John Walsh, P. McGrath, J. Kirby, E. J. O'Coonner, P. P. Corkery, D. J. Collins, D. O'Connell, W. Walsh, J. Nolan, J. Grilley, J. Carroll, R. O'Reilly, T. McNamara, M. Murphy, J. M. Hennessy, J. D. Maguire, M. W. Hogan, J. D. Firzgribon, J. Hardy and H. Coughlin, all mounted. Many of these gentlemen had maguificent wreaths about their horses' necks, and the grand marshal was specially fortunate in this regard. In order next came the temperance division, about 600 strong, led by the Knights of Father Matthew, commanded by Henry M. Spencer. Robert Kelieher was grand marshal of this division. The Father Matthew Young Men's Temperance Society came next, commanded by Marshal Michael Hors, Green. These societies made up the temperance division, which was followed by the Ancient Order of Hibernians, Andrew F. Brown, marshal. The A. O. H. had over a thousand men in line, separated into sieven divisions. The special aids of the marshal were Michael Bree. C. Harrison, P. Cosgrove, B. Burke and James Garrigan.

"No; and there was precedent for it. Gen. Gustavus W. Smith, who lived in New York after the war, threw up his commission in the army under the prosecution of President Davis, and afterward held a commission under the Governor of Georgia."
"There were several internecine troubles in the confederate army?"
"Well, Mr. Davis had a great ability in placing mounts in source works."

"There were several internecine troubles in the confederate army?"

"Well, Mr. Davis had a great ability in placing mound of the guns that opened the attack on Fort Sumter. He had his headquarters at Fort Mou.tre, and in the sands of Sullivan island there several-formidable batteries. A Captain James was in command at Fort Johnston, on the other side of Sumter. Gen. Ripley tasked yesterday concerning some of the minor incidents of that memorable day. He had been an officer in the regular army, and had served in Mexico with Robert Anderson, in command at Sumter. Singularity enough, however, Gen. Ripley, the Confederate, was a native of Ohio, while Major Anderson, the Federal solder, was born in the siave State of Kentucky. General Ripley mad married, and lived for many years in South Carolina.

"I had ordered," he said, "some cocked hats for our uniforms, and on the day before the attack I me a boy with a box in his hand running towards Fort Moultre. "Where'll I find Gen. Ripley?" in easked him. "Why, said he, I heard they were to start firing on Fort Sumter, and I must get that hat to him before they start in. He thought the attack could not be made unless I was in full regalia. Well, as it happened, I was a wakened an hour before the first snot was actually fired, by a false alarm that the signal to begin hostilities had been given, and I rushed out. It was to be a rocked that and a night-gown. I had time to dress, however, before the signal came, It was to be a rocked from Beauregard's headquar, ters, near Charleston. The rocket flashed at about 4:30 in the morning. My signal to the sates and almost before the rocket from Beauregard's headquar, ters, near Charleston. The rocket flashed at about 4:30 in the morning. My signal to the batteries of the siland oppend, and at the instant we saw the flash of the guns of Fort Johnston, the concentrated his fire on Fort Johnston. That begins the war. I said to myself. Look on this gas picture and then on thi the counterfeit presentment of two companies Ex-Mayor Joseph Brown, will spoil a promising candidacy if he dallies with the gas monopoly. THE gas ordinances will be found in another part of this paper in full, and they make mighty good reading.

THE morning papers are devoting a great deal of space on Tuesday morning to publishing the news of the gas bribery which we pub lished Saturday evening.

As a financial scheme, the water gas propo sition was immense. The company was so involved that the St. Louis syndicate could help it out, only by taking its stock and paying nothing for it.

CITZENS who oppose the gas ordinance hav the remedy in their own hands, The right of protest and petition is a right which is much respected by politicians in the month immediately preceding the election.

THE telegraph has informed us twice within a week of the lynching of horse thieves in Mexico by Mexican cavalry. There is something weird and picturesque about Mexican life, and the two Republics have much to learn by an interchange of frontier ideas.

Owing to the pressure of advertising we are in the condition of the young lady at the party who was asked to take another saucer of icecream, and who said she was "a little crowded already:" but the news will be found as usualahead of all of our competitors.

THE failure of ex-Congressman "PHIL" THOMPSON to get the Internal Revenue Collectorship, indicates that the new President does not recognize any obligation to make reparation to Congressmen who have failed of reelection by giving them the appointive offices, and it further indicates that the office-begging claims of local interests are not to be consid-

THERE is a hazy, cloudy, sight-obstructing vagueness about the process by which Delegate BLEVIN obtained his water-gas stock. Delegate SLEVIN says he did not ask for any stock, General FULLERTON swears he did not offer him any, and yet by some unknown process an agreement was arrived at by which Delegate SLEVIN became entitled to just 700 shares of full paid stock of the par value of $25 per share, without any painful preliminary payment.

LOCAL POLITICS.

The meeting of the Democratic City Central Committee at the headquarters at Sixth and Pine last night for the purpose of naming the judges and polling places in the various wards for the coming primaries, was largely attended by ward politicians. Before the list of the judges and polls had been read out the were numerous protests, verbal and written, against the appointments of several of the committeemen. Protests were handed in from the First, Second, Third, Fourth and Twelfth Wards. The outsiders at the meeting became so noisy and boisterous that the committee decided to turn them out and go into executive seasion, but it is resolution was reconsidered. The polling piaces and the judges appointed were then read. The committee afterward consented to consider the procests from the different wards, but after a "wangle over the contest in the First Ward it was decided to allow each delegation in the contesting wards to go to the polling places and see that the votes were fairly counted.

The Pohlman Republican City Central Committee met at No. 18 N. Fourth street last night. After a discussion of the prospects for the local campaign a long preamile and resolutions which had been passed on September 1st by the two committees elected August 30, were read and 1st was resolved that the chairman, John H. Pohlman, and the secretary. Ford Smith, having been regularly and a number of officers and members having forfeited their membership in view of the necessity of the situation and for the sake of regularly, harmony and to avoid interference by boliters and unauthorized committees, the following new members of the committee were elected: Ed R. Schultz, J. O. Dawson, R. T. Brophy, Henry Stumpf, Willis Johnson, Rudolph Prischard, William Andre, Hugo Gerber, F. Krauss, E. D. Chamoerialn, Audrew Franklin, Geo. B. Vashon, Chas. M. Scott, E. H. In addition a five-cent plug of tobacco was given out to each man every two days. Yesterday the "dudes" were favored by the distribution of two cigarettes to each man, and as a special luxury on the bill of fare lobster salad was included in the rations. The stomacts of the troops were so unaccustomed to anything of the kind that they were taken by surprise and rebelled. It must have been a trick of the strikers to introduce the salad into the ranks because it proved an enemy and laid a large detachment of the militia on their backs and disabled them so much for active service that they thought seriously of throwing up their commissions and a vast number of the rations their commissions and a vast number of the rither them. ment for which the people of St. Louis are indebted to the Post-Dispatch, which gave them

THE GAS QUESTION.

Protesting Citizens Hold a Very Enthusiastle Meeting.

A mass meeting of citizens residing in North St. ouis, was held last night in Socialer Turner Hall, Louis, was held last night in Socialer Turner Hall, Thirteenth and Maine streets, for the purpose of protesting against the passage of the bill extending the privileges of the old gas company. Hon, Gus Sessinghaus presided over the meeting which packed the hall, and said that with monopolies spreading throughout the city and driving the ma-jority of of the House of Delegates, it was time citmisrepresented there Mr. Ledberger made a stirring speech, in which he urged a lesson ought to be taught to me my would take bribes from a corporation. Cel. Dave Murphy followed, with the suggestion that the city should buy out the gas company and supply the citizens with gas in future. Ex-Mayor Joseph Brown gave a history of the old gas fight, spoke in favor of competition, but opposed the idea of the city buying out the company. August Thoman indorsed that plan, and hoped the Council would realize the way the people felt on the important subject. After other speeches a committee, consisting of Messra. Obermier, Breckensamp, Lefman, Carrand Wies-hahn, reported resolutions condemning the provisions of the gas bill as outrageously in favor of monopoly and against the people and protesting against its passage, holding up to scorn the conduct of the majority in the House of Delegates and promising to keep in mind the names of those who voted for the furtherance of a corrupt and grasping monopoly, and indorsing the fearless course of Mr. Charles Schoenbeck in starting the present expose. They recommended that a committee of three be appointed from the meeting to obtain relief from the Legislature in the shape of a reneral law to regulate the price and quality of the gas manufactured and sold in the State, with suitable punishments and forfeitures for violation thereof: a general law to authorize the city of St. Louis and other cities to condemn, under the right of eminent domain, the franchises and gas mains of the gas companies; also a general law to appoint a commissioner having the power of visitation on all corporations in this State; also that the Municipal Assembly provide for the laying of gas mains and pipes by the city forthwith, to be ready for use in 1890. Messrs. Murphy, Ledberger and Sessinghaus were appointed a committee to obtain the relief suggested in the resolutions. The meeting then adjourned.

The House of Delegates met last evening, Mr. Terry in the chair. aged railroad has not been in the slightest degree shattered. The most practical and successful manager that I know is Mr. J. C. Clarke of the Illimois Central, and to him I low my first Jesson in uncovering the mysteries of American management. The rationare of railway is simple indeed, I is constructed to transport goods and passengers, and the single thing the railway has to do well is the transportation. To arrive at the profits you have but to strike the difference between the cost of doing this work and what is paid for it. Now, a full train can be run between this city and Chicago at a cost not exceeding $500, including depreciation of stock and all expenses of litication, taxes, etc. The present rates on grain, which are about the lowest that are ever charged, are equal to about $4 per ton, and at this rate the managers of the different roads have brought about ADECLENSION OF ALL DIVIDENDS.

Now, a train carries about 400 tons, or a total income of $1,000, and I don't think there is any business that can show such a large interest on investments as this. When low rates are more profitable than high rates, why not boildy follow them? Directors here don't direct, but leave everything to the president, and he devotes his time mainly to the dicker, and, incidentally, to the control and business of the road. A road is put down as using up above 80 per cent of its income for expanse, which is about 20 per cent more than can be justified, and the remainder of the meome which ought to go to the stockholders as dividends, is seized and appropriated to what is called betterments. I The result of all this is that no man looks upon the report of an American road as anything more than a fairy tale in figures. A railway officer should have no more right to create an indebtedness or assist himself to the earnings of the road, than the manager of this hotel would have to put a mortgage of several hundred thousand dollars on it. You might fancy the astonishment of Mrs. Paran Stevens to find a debt of this sort created b Patrick's Church will begin in two or three weeks. city was solemn high mass at St. Patrick's Church. city was solemn night mass at the rather's Church, which was well attended.

Prospects of a Warm Contest-A Noted

Dy Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

LITTLE ROCK ARK., March 17.—To-day's ba lotting by the Legislature for a United States Senator is the absorbing topic here and the head quarters of the eight candidates at the, Capital Hotel, is the scene of much excitement. The definite conclusion of Ex-Senator Walker to enter the race, and his arrival on the grounds, created great uncasiness among those who had claimed the lead on the first ballot. Walker will receive much of his old support in the Northwest, which will be drawn from herry, and a sharp contest for the lead between herry and Dunn will result. The order of the first day's contest will be as follows: Dunn or Berry first, followed closely by Newton. Fishback, Walker, House and Horner.

Two Eminent Kentuckians Seeking Appointment to Foreign Missions.

Gen. Preston, Once Minister to Spain, Destrous of Representing the New Administration at Alfonso's Court-Ex-Senator Williams Also Looking for a Foreign Mission-How the Kentucky Delegation

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch WASHINGTON, March 14.—Gen. William Preston Kentucky is a candidate for the Spanish missic He was a Minister to Spain in the good old days before the war. He is now in the neighborhood of 70 years of age. He is a very tall, distinguished neight. I saw him the other night at the Ebbitt buse, towering above a group of very tall Kenhas a very dark olive complexion, black eyes, big ook nose and snowy white hair and military mus-Came, March 17.—Wm. Sexton and Charles tache. The rest of his face is smooth shaven. In spite of his seventy years he stood as straight as a quarrel yesterday when Sexton shot Holly inflict- grenadier. A dark blue double-breasted frock vercoat was tightly buttoned up over his broad cross his instep. The shoes were cut low enough eneral was a perfect picture of radiant health, ength, and contentment with himself. He is said to be one of the most delightful story-tellers in dinner. Gen. 1Preston like a great many a wasnington dinner. Gen. 1Preston like a great many enter-taining talkers prefers to take entire charge of con-versation. He has no patience with a man who wants to waste time by breaking in upon his easy flow of reminiscence, story and quaint comment.

flow of reminiscence, story and quaint comment.

His rival from Kentucky for foreign honors is Cerro Gordo Williams, who wants the Mexican mission, Naturally the interests of these two gentlemen clash, for it is not probable that two missions will be given to one State. Williams is also a tall man, with a grizzly grev mustache setting off a florid complexion and a regular featured face. He is celebrated for wearing a number of curiy brown wiss of various lengths to imitate the appearance of baving his hair cut, and the growth of the weeks of the month. He is a very 'pright, honorable man, and is very fond of horse racing and agriculture. He propably knows more about the Blue Grass region and its capacities for raising horses and men than any one else in Kentucky. He related a story the other day of how one of his old constituents twisted his military nickname of Cerro Gordo. He was introduced to the constituent during a canvass. The constituent was painting a barn. His hands were daubed with red paint. He was a tail, powerful man, with enormous hands. When the was sentor introduced the constituent burst out with a shout of rapture. "Well, well, so this is Sarah Gordon Williams!" As he said this he brought his hand down on the Senator's new broad cloth coat and left a free hand sketch in red

The Kentucky delegation, it is understood, have indorsed Williams, although they have a kindly feeling towards the old veteran, Preston. It is probable that they will give him an indorsement also. There is not another such a clannism delegation in Washington. They fight among themselves but they do not permit outside people to interfere. If you attack a Kentuckian you will have the whole State after you. The lime stone underlying that State is given as the reason for the production of so many tail, huge-boned men. It is very rare to find a man born and brought up in Kentucky who is below the medium size. Their public men are not much given to reading. Tuey are fond of good society and take as much delight in social gatherings where there are only men, as a lot of dragoon soldiers.

look upon as a piece of buildozing on the part of Major Harrigan and of weak-kneed acquiesence on the part of the Association's executive committee. It has been claimed that while the committee were engaged in the transaction of business they were startled by the entrance of Major Harrigan, who presented the application of Patrolman John Egan for membership in the association, at the same time stating that Egan was very sick, and in case of his death his family would be left destitute. The committee then proceeded to rescind the resolution adopted by the association August 11, 1884, which provided that any member of the force desiring to become a member of the association must manth of his joining the force. A vote was taken which resulted in a tie, when the chairman, by virtue of his casting vote, decided the motion carried, without, however, stating his vote, an omission which has caused it to be believed that he miscounted the vote with a view to accommodating the chief. The rule being thus resolinded, a vote on the admission of Mr. Egan was taken, and resulted in his favor. It is claimed that the election is still invalid by virtue of article it, section 1, of the associations' bylaws which provides that no person shall be entitled to membership, except in conformity with rule 96 of the Police Manual, which states in clause 1 that he must be of good health and sound body and mind. Speaking of the

of the election a patrolman yesterday called attention to the fact that Egan's connection with the force was severed some time age and that when he became a patrolman, about a year and a half ago, he refused to become a member of the association. A Posr-Disparon reporter called these allegations to the notice of Major Harrigan, who acknowledged that the statement of facts connected with the election was correct, at the same time denying the imputation that anything in the nature of buildozing had been insulged in. He said: "The fact is that John Egan half apo, he refused to the committee that I remember that the vote stood 5 to 5, and that the chairman decidef in favor of the chairman decidef in favor of the point made that the reference to rule 60 of the Police Manuai, contained in the ascociation's by-laws, I do not think it has any bearing on the case. At the time Egan became a year and a half ago a member of the police force he fully complied with the rule, and it cannot be made to apply to a condition of his health arising subsequent to his appointment. I am very sorry for John Egan, but more so for his family, who are now left destitute. His sickness was not the result of acideat or exposure arising from the performance of his duties, and he is consequently deprived of ail pay, while absent from duty. The $10 or $11 he will receive from the association will just about pay his doctor's bill, and that is the relief which I promised his wife I would try and secure for him by seeking to have him elected a member of the association."

Dr. Hill the attending physician, states that Mr. Jones had complained of the dampness in the basement and of the fact that a stick could be easily driven into the moist clay several inches.

"Do you think that such a state of affairs would lead to dangerous disease?"
"No, I do not think so," said the doctor, "but there could be no question that it would result in biliary derangement. I cannot say either, what power the contaminating influences of the basement would have to spread themselves to the upper floors."

Polk Cooper went to trial to-day in the Criminal Court on a charge of esticing a girl away from her home for illicit purposes. The prosecutrix in the case is Mrs. Emily Parker, the mother of the defendant's viotim. Her daugster, Emily S. Parker, is a young woman whose beauty and poverty joined in bringing upon her the sad experiences which she underwent. She has a pretty, fresh face, the charms of which are marred, however, by a suit of the most attractive blonde hair. Cooper, the derendant, is a swarthy, middle-aged man, the cicatrices of whose face and neck are evidences of his past experiences. He is accused of having induced the girl to leave her home in this city and take up a residence in Springfield ill., in a house of questionble repute. W. D. Longonecker, who lives in the Illinois capital was indicted with Cooper, but obtained a severance.

Sign the following petition and send it to any member of the City Council or its Clerk.

The bill has passed the House of Delegates (see newspaper reports of Investigation Committee as to corruption therein), and is now before the Council. Only the voice of the people LOUDLY EXPRESSED can save the City from this monstrous proposition, which in reality binds the City for Twenty-Five Years.

(Cut this out, Sign and Mail it Promptly.)

To the City Council:

The undersigned respectfully urges your Honorable body not to pass the GAS BILL now before you, renewing the Franchise of the St. Louis Gas Co.

Address.

THE BARTHOLDI STATUE.

A Stirring Appeal by the New York World to the People.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

New York, March 17.—The World has put Sy Telegresh to the Peer Dispatch.

New Your, March 17.—The Workin has publishes at two column article on the Bartholdi pedestal with illustrations, showing the statue as it will appear when placed in position on Bedloe's Island, and the structure as it now stands in its partially finished state. The article presents a retrospect of the work done, refers to the efforts to raise funds by means of appeals by this commission; alludes to the fadure of Congress to appropriate $100,000, and points out the necessity for immediate action. The committee has expended a little over $160,000, leaving only $2,000 in the treasury, not amough to instify a renewal of the work. Only $15,000 has been raised since December 1st, 1884, and all of this has been expended. Nearly all the money that has been contributed, has been in sums of more than $100, and as a popular subscription the movement has been a disastrons faiture. After the Worklow article had been put in type, a communication was received from the New York Hotel Men's Relief Association with a check for $223 00, being the balance in the treasury, as a subscription to the pedestal fund. This contribution heads "The Would's subscription ist." Editorially the Would says: "Money must be raised to finish the pedestal for the Barthold statue. It would be to New York City and the American Republic to have France send us the splendid gift without our having provided even so much as a landing place for it. Nearly ten years ago, the French people set about making the Bartholdi statue. It was to be a gift emillematical of our attainment of the first century of Independence. It was also the seal of a more serviceable gift that they made to us in 1776 when, but for their timely aid, the ragged sufferers of Valley Forge would have been disbanded, agd the colonies would have continued a part of fife British Dominon. Can we fail to respond to the spirit that actuated this generous testimonial? The statue is unwower that the proper reception and erection, has thrown the respond in like

Gilfoy, on Market and Beaumont. Dr. Farreil veterinary surgeon of the Fire De-partment and Bryan King, hostler at No. 10 Engine House on Market and Jefferson avenue began a fight last night in which a number of persons were engaged, and which may end fatally for one of the combatants. The trouble began about a horse combatants. The trouble began about a horse which the doctor was treating and which King or dered out of the way. King got Farrell into a corner when the son of the latter came to his help. Joe Gilfor, another fireman, came to King's relief and after a lively little fight J. T. Barry, the foreman succeeded in stopping the affray. Farrell and his son started for their home and it was supposed the fight had ended. Gilfoy started for his home and was met on the corner of Market and Beaumont streets by young Farrell and a negro named Frank Fishman, who at once attacked him, knocking him down with a brick and finally stabbing him with a scalpel. Fishman and Farrell were promptly arrested and the wounded man examined by Dr. Whitwood, who pronounced his injuries probably fatal. At the station house Fishman admitted that he had used the knife, and told the officers where it could be found at Dr. Farrell's residence, 220 S. Jefferson avenue. Owing to the dangerous condition of the wounded man bond was refused, and Farrell and Fishman are held to await the result.

Judge Lubke yesterday ordered a decree in partition in the case of F. Chonteau, et al., against F. L. Chouteau, et al. Charies A. Faris was appointed special commissioner and gave bond in the sum of $25,000, which was approved.

"Ain't she a daisy?" observed a classical-looking individual wearing a dressing-gown and red skull cap. He ceased squinting, and handed his glass to a companion. "She's hit him," came from a small wooden building out of which a telescope protruded, where an observer was intently watching for the contact of the meon and the sun. There was a hurried rush to a similar building, some fifty feet away, a siamming of doors and closing red and yellow windows, and the soventists bogan taking photographs of the eclipse of the sun at the rate of three a minute. Heavy clouds obscured the sun a greater part of the afternoon, so that but few observations could be taken. A fraction more than one-half of the sun was covered at one time as observed from this point, and this was the greatest portion concealed during the afternoon. While prevented from taking as many observations and photographs as desired, the officers at the observatory express themselves as well pleased with those obtained.

Menichols has arrested the attention of everibody:

Menichos is a name you'll hear Quite tree about the town.

Not now and then, but year by year, As he knocks prices down.

And he knocks prices down.

And find they've bought ne trank. The government square and pat, And find they've bought ne trank. The powers taborer with the hod is treated just the same as ringe-fill therally is said.

To get good weight always. A thousand practy cots men build, Out on the city's rim; And these Menichols' shock has filled, Men day by day seek him, But why? The reason you would know? Some harder query send— McNichols seells by payments low, He is still the poor wan's friend.

(The Land of the Harp and the Shamrock)

ERIN'S HARP.

Tho' the last glimpse of Erin with sorrow I see, Yet wherever thou art shall seem Erin to me; In exile thy bosom shall still be my home.

And thine eyes make my climate wherever we roam.

And I'll gaze on thy gold hair as graceful it wreathes, And hang o'er thy soft harp, as wildly it breathes; Nor dread that the cold-heartsd Saxon will tear One chord from that hair, TOM MOORE.

Usually take a "little sthroll," indulge in a regular old-fashioned "Irish Jig," or waltz off for an ever welcome "lark" on St. Patrick's Day—a day that's always celebrated by every true Irishman.

Men or Boys from "The Green Isle of the Sea," or any other part of the world who may find it necessary to buy new clothes should know that this is both a SAFE and LOW-PRICED House. Although early in the season we're at the front with many new things and not a few TEMPTING Bargains.
